

Grant Lyman
Senior Vice President of Booking, Live Nation Carolinas

Grant Lyman got his start in the music business while a student at Michigan State University. As a freshman, he quickly took the reins of the campus concert organization called Pop Entertainment and spent his four years at Michigan State booking concerts for the student population, while also pursuing his degree in Political Theory & Constitutional Democracy.

Upon graduating, Grant accepted a position with the Detroit office of Clear Channel Entertainment, prior to the company becoming Live Nation. He spent a number of years in Detroit before moving to Charlotte, NC in spring of 2009. In June 2009, Live Nation Carolinas opened The Fillmore Charlotte, and The Uptown Amphitheatre in Charlotte, both new venues which Grant was charged with booking. Since then, Grant has been involved with opening new venues in Raleigh and Greensboro, including being the lead booker for The Ritz and The Red Hat Amphitheater in Raleigh, and White Oak Amphitheatre in Greensboro. As Senior Vice President of Booking for Live Nation Carolinas, Grant promotes shows all throughout North and South Carolina. Grant and his wife Mollie have one daughter, Piper, and love spending their weekends in the mountains of North Carolina.