

Jaquelyn Holowaty
Vice President of Ticketing, Spectra Venue Management

Jacquelyn Holowaty is the Vice President, Ticketing with Spectra Venue Management and works to fully integrate the company's One Comcast Spectacor strategy. She works with the company's ticketing division, Spectra Ticketing & Fan Engagement (formerly Paciolan), to help integrate ticketing technology and create revenue-generating concepts for the company's clients. She joined Spectra in 2004 at Budweiser Events Center in Loveland, CO, where she helped open the venue and establish box office procedures. She then transferred to the company-managed South Okanagan Events Centre in Penticton, BC in 2008, and then opened the Abbotsford (BC) Entertainment & Sports Centre in 2009. She was promoted to Assistant General Manager of the facility in 2012 and then moved to assist in opening the 10,000-seat PPL Center in Allentown, PA. Holowaty is from Pueblo, CO, and received her Bachelor of Science Degree in Natural Resources Recreation and Tourism from Colorado State University in Fort Collins.
